Dual Functionality: Automatic and Manual

Engineers, veterinarians and dog groomers have participated in its design. It fully respects the physical and psychological characteristics of dogs, throughout the process they feel safe and comfortable.

The cabin offers the versatility of both an automatic and manual bath. For those who prefer a controlled experience, the manual option allows you to supervise and actively participate in your dog's bathing process. Automatic allows them to relax. In addition, the automatic mode optimizes time and efficiency.

Respectful of the environment

The LVK cabin has been designed with our planet's water scarcity in mind. With its advanced technology, we achieve more than 50% water savings compared to a traditional dog bath. This is not only beneficial for the environment, but also for your monthly water bill.

A bathing service consumes 20 liters of water compared to more than 150 liters in a traditional bath.

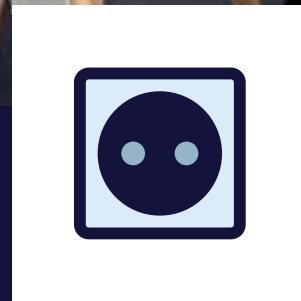

We are sustainable. Our innovative water atomized system and our continuous improvement allows us to reduce water consumption to a minimum.

"We are constantly looking for ways to reduce our ecological footprint and promote sustainable practices in every aspect of our business."

We use vegan shampoos that are free of parabens and silicones and are of the highest quality. Today, canine cosmetics allow us to care for your dog's coat thanks to the quality of these products.
